One Word. I hope your first week of daily readings went well! The picture to the right features Sierra Harnden, Katie Crownover, and Aiden Harnden busy with their One Word reading. If you still need a devotional book, contact the church office. If you miss a day, or even a week, don't stress yourself out trying to catch up. Just start back on the reading for that day.

See the reading plan above for this new week. Keep praying that this program helps bring about growth in our church family!

More One Word News. We have been given access to a digital copy of the One Word devotional book! If you are interested in having a copy of the book for your computer, phone, or tablet, just email me at jhorton16@hotmail.com to request it and I'll send it your way. If you're interested in going deeper with your One Word study, there is a separate resource called the One Word Study Guide. In this resource, each word receives a more in-depth biblical treatment. If you would like a digital copy of the Study Guide, email me and I'll send it to you!

Responses. 2017 began in a beautiful way for our church family last Sunday. Both Jim Boyd and Debron Taylor came forward asking for prayers. These brothers started the new year in the best way possible: by recommitting their lives to God's will. It was a reminder that God still speaks powerfully through His Word to change lives. I pray we continue to see tender hearts open to the gospel all year long!

Wednesdays This Winter

We're offering two adult classes on Wednesdays at 7 PM. Lou Pfister is teaching a series called "Life-You'll Get Through This" in the Vanzant Center lobby. Joseph Horton is teaching on the Corinthian letters in Room 214. We hope you'll join us!

Thank You Note

A grateful "Thank You" to all those of the Winchester church of Christ for their prayers, cards, visits, phone calls and offered assistance during and after my knee replacement surgery and recovery. I am so happy to be a part of such a precious brotherhood as we have here at our church.

Sincerely,
Terry K. Cheatham
