Joe's Jots

New Elders and Deacons. Last Sunday morning, we heard some exciting news. The names of four potential elders and eight potential deacons were put before our church family. There is a handout about our process of adding elders and deacons available in both lobbies. If you haven't already, please pick one of these up so you can be aware of all the details. We are blessed with many men in our family who are qualified and willing to serve. Please pray for this process, the men selected, and our future service together in God's Kingdom!

New Sermon Series. Today, we begin a new series about Jesus. To truly grasp the identity of our Lord, we can't start reading the Bible in Matthew. We must start in Genesis and be introduced to all the concepts and people in the Old Testament who point ahead to the coming Christ. Below is a roadmap for the weeks ahead. Let's get started!

Quotable. "The early Christians were not wringing their hands and moaning, 'What's the world coming to?' They were rejoicing and declaring, 'Look Who has come to the world!' Okay, friends, now it's our turn. We prevail by rejoicing." - Ray Ortlund

Thank You Notes

We cannot thank you enough for the calls, texts, cards, prayers, and the wonderful food after the death of my mother. Your kindness and support has helped us through some of the hardest days of our lives. We have been so very blessed by our loving church family. Please continue to keep us in your prayers.

Tyler Wiseman & Family

I want to express my appreciation for all the prayers, calls, visits and food after Delbert's funeral. Also, thank you to all that donated to the Franklin County Christian Scholarship Fund and to the Winchester Christian Academy in memory of Delbert. Pray for us as we carry on without him. God Bless You All!
