Welcome to Worship!

November 2, 2025

FUNDAMENTALS OF THE FAITH

9 AM Sermon: Parenthood: Raising Faithful Children | Deut. 6:4-9
6 PM Preview: Why I'm a Christian, In 5 Words

Joe's Jots

Our Sermon Series all about glorifying God in every arena of life is underway. We're calling it Daily Faith: Following Jesus in the Real World. Here's the remaining line-up...

Nov. 9 | ALL-IN-ONE SUNDAY W/ ANDY CONNELLY

Nov. 16 | If the World Hates You: Handling Persecution
1 Peter 3:13-17

Nov. 23 | Those Who Mourn: Dealing with Grief
Matthew 5:4

Nov. 30 | Worried Sick: How God Helps the Anxious
Philippians 4:4-7

The Anxious Generation. I've been reading a popular book that was released last year called The Anxious Generation, by Jonathan Haidt. Since we're talking about parenting today, I'll share a little about it. Haidt makes the case that heavy smart phone & social media use is the primary cause of mental health problems in young people. He says we need to move back to a "play-based childhood" and away from a "phone-based childhood." I find it fascinating that though he is a self-proclaimed atheist (p. 201), he spends an entire chapter talking about the importance of a healthy spiritual life for young people. He even mentions and agrees with the famous quote from Blaise Pascal: "there is a God-shaped hole in every human heart" (p. 215). To borrow some language from Jesus, maybe Haidt is "not far from the kingdom of God" (Mark 12:34). In the chapter I mentioned, Haidt highlights six important spiritual practices that are often neglected due to heavy phone use: (1) shared sacredness (a commitment to communal worship), (2) embodiment (belonging to an active faith community), (3) stillness, silence, & focus, (4) transcending the self, (5) being slow to anger & quick to forgive, and (6) finding awe in nature. While I believe Haidt has an incorrect worldview—I hope he will find his way to Jesus eventually—I agree with him on the importance of these practices!
